

FXCM Group Signs Agreement with Navient Corporation to Provide Job Seekers with “Success Profiling” Automation in Hiring Management

BOSTON, MA and DALLAS, TX (May 24, 2006) – Navient Corporation, a provider of hiring management solutions, today announced it has signed an agreement with FXCM Group, one of the world’s largest Forex Dealer Members, and a leading provider of foreign exchange trading services. The agreement will enable FXCM’s job applicants with a way to establish “best fit” for FXCM’s job openings using Navient’s single-point of access testing system. The new platform combines Selection Assessment with an Enterprise Level Applicant Tracking Platform (ATS) and also provides job-posting connectivity to hundreds of job boards throughout the world enabling FXCM to reach job seekers globally.

Navient has taken first generation ATS technology to the next level and integrated scientific selection research methodology into its software solutions. Navient’s unique on-line hiring management applications contain toolkits with advanced psychometrics designed for use by both line managers and HR staff. The hiring management solution, named HiringNavigator™ provides organizations with on-line application forms, candidate pre-screening, selection assessments, and structured interview support

“Our customers understand the significance of candidate screening and assessment,” said Bob Sharron, Ph.D. founder of Navient. “The HiringNavigator™ platform greatly improves FXCM’s ability to rapidly identify top candidates with job specific skills knowledge and abilities in specific market sectors, locations, and skill levels while significantly reducing the costs of hiring using our simple fixed cost pricing model.”

“By leveraging the power of Navient’s assessment platform and seamlessly integrating it with an automated hiring process, we are able to provide FXCM’s hiring managers with job candidates who are truly qualified for our jobs said Janelle Lester, FXCM’s Managing Director of Operations. “Our company is experiencing tremendous expansion and that translates directly into new hires who will stay with us and grow.”
